BACKGROUND AND ANALYSIS

The Fenwick Island Police Department is responsible for approximately 1.5 miles of beach and patrolling area with inland water ways, on the bay side of the town. During the summer tourist season and the off season, the FIPD is responsible for water emergencies in the town. Many people swim in the ocean prior to and after the lifeguards are on duty. Our coastline is susceptible to rip currents and our bay to flooding and strong currents. I am requesting the town purchase 8 rescue tubes with rope to equip our police vehicles with this life saving equipment. The cost will be $569.50 to equip all vehicles.
